HENRY J. MYERS TAKEN BY DEATH

Former Representative in State Legislature from Adams County Dies Suddenly. Was a County Merchant and Miller.

Hon. Henry Jamison Myers, formerly representative in the State Legislature from Adams County, a merchant and miller during his residence here, died suddenly Wednesday night about 10 o'clock at the home of his son, J. Ross Myers, in Baltimore. He was aged 86 years, 3 months and 1 day.

He was a son of Henry and Nancy Myers, well known residents of Adams county, and was born in New Chester, in 1826. When a young man he engaged in farming in Tyrone township, at the same time operating a merchant mill along Conewago creek, near New Chester. This business he conducted until April 1, 1873, when Mr. Myers, with his family, moved to New Oxford, where he was engaged as a commission merchant and produce dealer for seventeen years. During 1890, he retired from business and moved to Hanover, where he resided until about two months ago he went to Baltimore to make his home with the family of his son.

Mr. Myers was married to Miss Belinda M. Slagle, of Hanover, and of this union five children were born—Charles; Robert Gates, Jacob Ross, Edward and Annola, only one of whom survives, J. Ross Myers, of Baltimore. Mrs. Myers died in Hanover, April 21, 1905.

Mr. Myers was a life-long Democrat, and took a prominent part in county, state and national politics, serving in the State Legislature at the opening of the Civil War. He was first elected in 1869 and re-elected in 1872. He was also a candidate for the State Senate, but lost by several votes on a re-count after an election contest. He succeeded his father in the Legislature, who was the first Democrat elected to the lower house from Adams county. During his service in the House, through which he won distinction, he was appointed by Governor Curtin as a member of a committee of five who called upon President Lincoln in reference to the navy yard at League Island. Mr. Myers often told his friends of the meeting with the "Great Emancipator," and the impression of Lincoln, as to the nobility of his character, which could never be effaced from his memory.

It is singular to note that four generations of the family have been engaged in the milling business, the grandfather of the deceased having established a mill at Myersville, 90 years ago, and his son, J. Ross Myers, is now a grain merchant at Baltimore.

Mr. Myers was a refined and cultured gentleman, beloved by all with whom he came in contact. He was a student of affairs, well-read and possessed of a fund of information on a variety of subjects. He was a jovial companion, and retained a sunny disposition. His kindly face, with whitened locks, will ever be recalled by many friends and associates, in all walks of life.

He was a devoted member of the Reformed church, and during his residence in Hanover was prominently identified with Emanuel Reformed congregation. For a number of years he taught a class of ladies in the Sunday school.

Following brief services at the home of his son in Baltimore, the body will be taken to Hanover for burial, on the 9.25 a. m., train over the Western Maryland railroad on Saturday. Funeral services will be held in Emanuel Reformed church at 10.30 a. m. Rev. A. S. Dechant officiating. Interment will be made on the family lot in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

EARL B. ECKERT
Earl Bucher Eckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horner Eckert, of Hanover, died Wednesday, at 2.30 p. m., from tuberculosis, after an illness of about eight months. He was aged 17 years, 4 months and 12 days.

The young man was the only son of his parents, the family moving to Hanover last spring, from New Oxford. He secured employment at the Houck bakery, and after working for about four weeks met with an accident, resulting in a severe injury to his right hand. After the accident he suffered a nervous breakdown, which led to his fatal illness.

Funeral Monday, February 24th, brief services at the house at 10 a. m., after which the body will be brought to Gettysburg on the 12.10 a. m. train, where further services will be held in St. James Lutheran church, Rev. A. M. Heilman officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery this place.

GAVE STORY OF THE REFORMATION

St. James Sunday School Produces Religious Entertainment in Brua Chapel. Pretty Singing and Elaborate Costumes.

With a number of impressive scenes, sacred songs, and processions, "The Story of the German Reformation" was told in Brua Chapel Thursday evening before an interested audience by a hundred or more members and friends of St. James Lutheran Sunday School. This religious event was given in Gettysburg some years ago under the direction of Mrs. H. E. Monroe and its rendition now shows that it has lost none of its power and attraction.

The evening opens with an allegorical procession to typify "Theology Entering the Union." Marching on the stage singing "The Song of God Goes Forth to War" and "Glory to God" about seventy five young people, in the costumes of many different nations, and carrying the flags of those countries, executed an intricate drill, forming a number of figures each with its own peculiar significance. The representatives of the various nations appeared in the order in which the doctrines of the Reformation entered the several countries.

The next scene represented students at the Monastery of Erfurth singing sacred songs much to the discomfort of an Erfurth Monk represented by Charles Culp. The trial of Luther at Worms which followed was the most elaborate scene of the entire entertainment and was produced exceptionally well. Handsome costumes were worn by the entire cast and a detail from Gettys Lodge I. O. O. F., in their elaborate degree team uniforms as members of the Emperor's Guard, added greatly to the character of the scene. The principal parts in the trial were taken by McClean Davis, as Luther; J. E. Leaman, as Emperor Charles V. of Germany; David Schaffer, Elector Frederick III of Saxony; and Calvin Gilbert as Cardinal Cajetan, of Rome.

The following scene of nuns and novices leaving the convent following the edict of the Elector of Saxony, though not so elaborate as other numbers, was perhaps the most impressive of the evening. The hymns by the chorus of well known local singers were beautifully rendered, "Over the Line" and "Lead Kindly Light" being especially well given.

Closing the evening's entertainment was another allegorical procession showing the various states and countries which have embraced Protestantism, the curtain falling as the entire class sang Luther's Battle Hymn.

Between the various numbers of the program the story of Martin Luther's life and work was given with the aid of a number stereoscopic views, by Miss S. Ethel Brown. The instruction of the people taking part was in the care of Miss Edna Shoener, both of whom represent Mrs. Monroe who originated the entertainment. Miss Alice Miller was pianist for the evening.

The play will be repeated this evening.

The local team played a steady game and although greatly outweighed played a faster game and made a strong finish scoring twelve points during five minutes of play. One Hundred Different Versions of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. Colonel Nicholson Furnishes Light on the Subject.

Because protests have been made that there are many different versions of Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, and it is proposed to have the speech inscribed on the Lincoln memorial to be built in Washington, the senate adopted Senator Root's joint resolution authorizing a committee to report the correct version.

Accompanying the resolution, Senator Root presented a letter from Colonel John P. Nicholson, of Philadelphia, chairman of the National Park Commission and recorder of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, who declared that more than 100 versions of Lincoln's Gettysburg address were published.

"Even congress has printed it incorrectly twice," wrote Colonel Nicholson.

MADERO'S WIFE PLEADS FOR HIM

Reqs General Huerta to Spare His Life.

THE CABINET TO DECIDE

Fear Execution Awaits Deposed President, Now Charged With Murder. Diaz to Run For President.

Mexico City, Mex., Feb. 21. — The late Francisco I. Madero, the deposed president of Mexico, hangs in the balance.

It had been planned to exile him along with his family, but when the time arrived for his departure the new government changed its mind. Many fear he will share the fate of his brother, who was shot on Wednesday.

Senora Madero visited the office of General Huerta, who is now provisional president, and made a pitiful plea for her husband's life. She was accompanied by Angelo Madero and Mercedes Madero, two sisters of the deposed executive.

Soldiers on guard at Huerta's office refused admittance to Senora Madero, but Huerta, learning from an aide that she wished to see him, ordered her to be admitted. Quite unmoved, Huerta asked Mrs. Madero what she desired.

With outflowing arms and the tears streaming from her eyes she cried: "Spare my husband and you shall have anything. You may have our property, our money and our promise to remain away from Mexico. Only spare my husband's life. That is all I ask."

"That matter is under consideration," replied Huerta in calm tones. "I am not greater than the government or the law. If it is deemed expedient or the public good that your husband should be executed, I could not interfere if I wished."

Senora Madero was led from the room and departed from the building with her sisters-in-law, all weeping hysterically.

Senora Madero and the former president's two sisters and his aged mother, together with the family of former Vice President Suarez, waited at the station ready to depart for Vera Cruz and thence for Europe. At the hour which had been fixed for departure the congress was still in session discussing the situation.

Senora Madero and the rest of her family of exiles had waited impatiently for more than two hours, when they were informed by former Foreign Minister Lascurain that the deposed president "would be prevented from leaving them on their journey."

Senor Lascurain declared that he was unable to give any explanation of the delay. Senora Madero, fearing the intentions of congress and General Huerta in regard to her husband, wept bitterly.

Madero's case is to be left in the hands of the new cabinet. He is now the personal prisoner of General Huerta, who was chosen provisional president by congress. He refuses to accept the responsibility.

General Huerta was in the point of permitting Madero and Suarez to leave the country, but was counseled a delay action by close friends, who considered it probable that Madero could use his freedom to hatch new plots. There appeared a strong probability that the appointment of a special commission to examine him would be urged as a solution.

Madero's trial before the cabinet will, it is said, find Francisco De La Barra almost alone in counselling leniency. Rodolfo Reyes, the minister of justice, is likely to remember the death of his father in the attack on the palace and the high-handed manner in which he considers Madero had treated him. With the exception possibly of two others, all the ministers are personal grievances, thus making the cabinet-jury scarcely a friendly one.

At the instigation of the government, Madero has been formally held responsible for the death of Colonel Diveroll, which occurred at the palace the time of Madero's arrest. Conlicting reports are in circulation regarding the slayer of Riveroll, but it is officially stated that Madero shot him.

Another execution took place. The detainee was Adolfo Basso, sixty years old, superintendent of the national palace for many years. Basso faced his firing squad bravely. He laid bare his breast to the riflemen, and his last words were "Viva Mexico!"

Felix Diaz will enter the race for the presidency in the general election. Probably Huerta will not run against him. One reason why Diaz made no effort to secure the provisional presidency for himself was his wish to be entirely free to organize and direct his party in the coming campaign.

Rebels Name Gomez President. San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 21.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez is proclaimed provisional president of Mexico in a document received here which is purported to bear the signatures of General Inez Malazar as "General in chief of the revolutionary forces of the north"; David De La Fuente, "second in command and chief of the president's staff" and ten other rebel leaders. The document is dated at Palomas, Chihuahua, Feb. 15. Gomez is declared in the statement the legitimate leader of the revolution.

GENERAL HUERTA.

Man Who Turned Against Madero Now Acting President.

General Victoriano Huerta, Mexico's latest dictator, is the senior officer in command of the Mexican army with the rank of major general. For many months he has been in command of all the federal forces in the vicinity of Mexico City. When General Diaz and General Reyes began their revolt on Sunday, Feb. 9, Huerta was designated to take charge of the situation. He disposed the federal forces and personally led many of the assaults in the last ten days of fighting around the arsenal, where Diaz was fortified.

SEVEN CHILDREN BURN IN THEIR HOME

Little Ones Perished While Parents Were Away.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 21. — Seven children, ranging in age from two to twelve years, the entire family of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, were burned to death when their log-cabin home, a few miles from this city, was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The father and mother had been in Harrisburg, purchasing supplies for the family, and made the gruesome discovery upon their return. Most of the packages the parents carried were toys and candies for the children.

Small charred bodies, almost unrecognizable among the smoldering ruins, were all the evidence of what had been a lot of roving children. The family had expected to move to a nearby farm.

The father and mother arrived at their home while the fire was at its height, and the mother was restrained with difficulty from dashing into the flaming building in an effort to save her children.

The house was built on a hillside, and during the fire the children could be seen huddled on their beds, but it is believed that life was extinct before anyone reached the place.

The two-year-old baby's body was found clasped in the arms of the oldest daughter, aged twelve, in the ruins of the bed on which they had gone to sleep.

It is thought that the fire started in the kitchen and that the dense smoke caused the deaths of the children before the fire reached them.

"I suffered from Rheumatism for six years; tried different doctors, with no relief. I saw your advertisement and decided to try RHEUMA. I have taken three bottles and am entirely free from the disease. I was so bad I could not sleep nights; now I sleep well, and my kidneys work perfectly."—P. W. Miller, Catawissa, Pa.

"For 14 months I was so badly afflicted with Rheumatism that much of the time I was obliged to use a cane. I used one bottle of RHEUMA and THE CANE IS IN THE CORNER NOW. No one could be happier to be rid of the pain, swollen knees and badly swollen ankles. I certainly believe there is no remedy for the disease like RHEUMA."—Mrs. Daniel S. Knox, Severance, N. ALLEGED UNFAIR PRACTICES

Accused of Bribing Competitors' Employees and Waging Campaign to Stifle Competition.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 21.—Sensational charges of violations of the Sherman anti-trust law are leveled at the McCaskey Register company in a civil suit, filed here by order of Attorney General Wickham.

To acquire a monopoly of the interstate and foreign commerce in the sale of account registers, appliances and systems for keeping credit accounts the company, its officers and agents, it is charged, wrongfully and fraudulently have obstructed and suppressed the business of competitors, bribed their employees, employed agents to spy upon their business, have waged an unfair campaign of patent suits and threatened suits and of other unlawful methods to stifle competition.

The United States district court was asked to restrain the following named defendants from further monopoly and to prohibit a series of alleged unlawful and unfair practices:

The McCaskey Register company, Alfred G. Ryley, Stewart S. Kitz, Samuel G. Zimmerman, Edward Langenbach and Austin Lynch, of Canton, O.; Henry F. Pollock, Theodore C. Uran, George C. Russell, William G. Farum, Milton Beloch and Grant Kizer, of Alliance, O.; Josiah W. Phipps, of Boston; Charles T. Baxter, New York City; David C. Bower, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harry M. Rowley, Chicago; William P. Hughes, San Francisco; John H. Jones, Kansas City, Mo.; Fred Schneider, Seattle, Wash.; George P. Hayes, Memphis, Tenn.; Leslie G. Solar, Atlanta, Ga.; and Edward T. Bingham, Washington.

The defendant company is said to own exclusively the Dominion Register Company, Limited, of Toronto, Can., which also maintains an agency in London.

A campaign of "fierce and unfair competition" has been planned or conspired to by officers of the company, the government alleges. A force of special men, sometimes called the "flying squadron," or "knockout men," was employed, it is declared, to impart to salesmen and agents instructions to destroy the business of competitors, and for the purpose of interfering with the negotiations and inducing the cancellation, by customers, of their contracts of sale with competitors.

Agents also were employed, it is charged, to spy upon the business of competitors and fraudulently obtain information as to their sales and shipments and the addresses of their customers or prospective customers. Employees of competitors were secretly engaged, it is charged, to furnish confidential information concerning the business of competitors.

Defendants are charged to have instructed agents to procure information from employees of railroads, express companies and hotel companies and others as to plans and shipments of competitors. The government asks for an injunction to prohibit the bribing of employees of railroads and express companies to obtain such data.

Some of the defendants are alleged to have studiously copied and simulated advantageous features of competitors' products and attached them to the McCaskey account register. They are declared to have built registers, known as "knockouts," resembling the machines of competitors, and sold them without regard to cost to ruin rivals.

Defendants are charged with having maintained a display room known as the "graveyard," or "bonfire," at its factory in Alliance, Ohio.

EXCHANGE IN TAX FIGHT

Brokers' Committee to "Oppose Vigorously" Pending Bill.

New York, Feb. 21.—The governors of the New York stock exchange voted to "oppose vigorously" the passage of the bill pending in the legislature to increase the stock transfer tax from two to four cents a share.

A committee was appointed with authority to "use every lawful effort" to defeat the bill.

Johnson Has Pneumonia.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Jack Johnson, the pugilist, is ill at his home here from pneumonia, according to a statement made by his attorney, Benjamin Bachrach, to Judge Carpenter in the United States district court. The court said that if the fighter was well enough by Feb. 25 he would be placed on trial charged with smuggling, leaving the charge of violating the Mann "white slave" act until later.

SUFFRAGISTS BURN PAVILION

They Give Up Dynamiting For More Lively Game of Arson.

London, Feb. 21.—From dynamite the fanatical suffragettes turned to incendiarism. The pavilion in Kew Botanical Gardens was burned to the ground, with $3000 loss, and subsequently two women were arrested nearby, carrying bags of oil-soaked paper and saws and hammers.

The women were arrested after they had been seen hiding in the shrubbery on the Mid-Surrey golf links, near the pavilion. They gave their names as Lillian Lenton and Joyce Locke, the latter being an old suffragette offender.

They were arraigned in the Richmond police station, charged with the destruction of property belonging to the state. A mysterious man offered to go their bail, but bond was refused and the women were remanded until next Thursday.

In the police station, when the magistrate refused bail for the women, Joyce Locke screamed: "I'll go on a hunger strike. I'll die for the cause. You can't intimidate me."

Then before she could be stopped she picked up a book and a heavy ink stand and hurled them at the magistrate's head. The magistrate in an undignified manner rolled from his chair to a safe position behind his desk. When the woman was being removed she became hysterical. She struggled like an insane person, shrieking and struggling. It required three men to overpower her.

COLLEGE BOYS, WITH BAND, ESCORT HIKERS

Suffrage Army Warmly Welcomed at Elktion, Md.

Elktion, Md., Feb. 21.—The day of rest in Wilmington for the suffragette hikers was a godsend to everybody, and they bawled out of Wilmington at a much cheerier pace than that which they toiled in last Tuesday.

Delaware college boys gave an impressive exhibition of southern civility in their reception of the suffragette army. The entire cadet battalion of about 200 boys, with their rifles at right shoulder arms, and headed by their band, marched out about two miles to meet the army. At a cross roads they stacked arms and waited for the suffrage army to appear.

Automobiles crowded with Newark suffragettes, fluttering with yellow pennants and streamers, dashed up and down the road, bringing back news as to the progress of the army. When the approach of the army was finally announced the cadets shouldered their rifles, in readiness to escort it. General Jones was the first to appear, and the other marchers were close behind.

The cadets, with Lieutenant Herman at their head, marched down the long straggling main street of the little village, led by their band and followed by their guests of honor, the suffrage army, who braced up and marched quite cheerfully in response to the stimulus of martial music.

Arrived at the Deer Park hotel, the cadets halted and, standing at attention, made a long line, past which the suffrage army marched into the hotel for lunch. Then in military silence, without a shout or cheer, the cadets shouldered their rifles and marched away, their band playing that well known tune which has been parodied: "Hail, hail, the gang's all here."
